At The Atlas Foundation for Autism

Zeke Zimmerman, M.Ed., MBA

Ezekiel (Zeke) Zimmerman is a Financial Advisor. Zeke's practice, EZ Special Needs Planning, focuses on Special Needs Financial Planning, with an emphasis on ensuring that care can be provided for the entire lifetime of a family member with a physical, mental, intellectual or developmental disability.

As the parent of an autistic child, Zeke appreciates firsthand the pressures that special needs families face in order to understand and provide for all of their children's needs while at the same time finding balance and sanity in every other aspect of their lives. To that effect, Zeke often presents to other special needs parents, professionals and community groups on topics related to special needs planning and his process has helped many families to strategize productively around these otherwise overwhelming challenges.

Prior to his work in financial services, Zeke spent most of his early career as middle school Math teacher in the NYC Public School System, and then later as an Educational Technology entrepreneur. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Wisconsin, his Master in Education degree from Hunter College, and his Master of Business Administration degree from Cornell University.

Zeke lives in Manhattan with his wife, Sheila, and their 3 children: Jacob, Jonathan and Zoe.
